

Android Inventory Tracking App

Change Request

The inventory tracking app is required to perform the following additional functions:

- Mark an object as 'Damaged'. When an object is marked as 'damaged', it does not need to be reclaimed anymore. This means that it will also not show up in any re-claim list that is generated. However, it will still show as being assigned to an individual or a project, as the case may be, with an additional UI indication that it has been damaged. The UI indication is up to the team (text/image/any other mechanism)
- Generate a list of 'damaged' objects, as of a user-specified date
